

S3 Repair Services Named as an OEM Authorized Service Center for Honeywell

June 17, 2019 - S3 Repair Services, a Milwaukee based company announced today, that it has entered into an agreement with Honeywell as an approved authorized service center. Under the terms of this agreement, S3 Repair will provide maintenance support for Honeywell on more than 50 different components for operators worldwide.

S3 Repair Services is an affiliate of S3 International and has a state-of-the-art component repair facility supporting Fixed and Rotor wing aircraft, military and commercial platforms in Hydraulic, Pneumatics, Mechanical, Electro Mechanical, Electrical, Instruments and Radio.

“S3 is proud to expand its long-term relationship with Honeywell to service along with our vast capabilities including maintenance, repair, and overhaul services”, says Jeff Wnuk, the Sr. Vice President of Operations at S3 Repair Services. “Our company is committed to providing our customers with unparalleled service and rapid turn-around-times, and partnering Honeywell’s quality products with S3’s responsiveness will be beneficial to operators and MROs worldwide.”

Founded in 2005, S3 Repair Services, Inc. is an FAA (9S3R896B) EASA (145.6559) Certified, OEM-Authorized, and Approved Repair Center for overhaul of components and accessories. As an industry leader supporting with a demonstrated commitment to aerospace quality and aviation safety, S3 Repair has been approved as an authorized MRO center by multiple OEMs. Built on a history of partnership, trust and proven dependability S3 Repair offers cost-effective solutions to meet critical aircraft maintenance schedules and keep our customers' aircraft flying.

For more information, please contact:
Lindsey Weber
Marketing Specialist
Tel: (414) 351-1506
E-Mail: lindseyw@s3international.com